PERSONS LIVING WITH AIDS BENEFIT
SOUTHERN COLORADO
MAY 11 THROUGH MAY 19 1990

Dear Community:

To set here and write this letter addressing each of you brings to my heart and mind tremendous amount of sorrow, but at the same time it fills me with excitement. Confused? Let me clear this up so that you may enjoy the thrill and excitement of us working together as a community.

Once again it is time to pull together and do what we can to help others. What saddens me is the increasing numbers of AIDS cases reported in Southern Colorado. In the past month, five persons have died of AIDS, which three of these people did need assistance thatwas not available else where. Last year we raised $3,700.00 to help Persons Living With AIDS in our community. This fund is set up to help individuals who may need assistance with medical Prescriptions, Rent, Fans, Clothes, Gas and Lights, Dentist, Rides to Denver to the Medical Center for Doctors examines, and Food, are among the long list of needs. There is no way that we can give each individual all he or she may need, but with your support we can help.

Last year was our first benefit. With it, we were able to help several persons. It was a wonderful start, but unfortunately with the increasing numbers of cases it doesn't go far. That is why we have contacted each of you. In May, we will have a two week drive to raise a minimum of $4,000.00 to help a few people in Southern Colorado.

We will gladly accept Gift Certificates for food, or Cash Donations, all of which will help to reach this goal.

At your request, we will be happy to supply a list of our Board Members and a statement of this past years spending of these funds.

The joy I find in writing this is knowing that no matter how tragic this decease is, this benefit will help ease the pain, for a few, and to make a wish come true for some of the children living with AIDS.

Please join us with your donations and with Gods blessings, we will not have to do many more benefits, because of finding a cure of this enemy to all of us. If you would like to claim this donation on your taxes, we would be more then happy to give you our tax I.D. number. Please call.

Sincerely,
Barbara Granniss

From the President's Desk

In 1985 Helpline coordinator Alan Wakefield approached the Center board with the idea of the helpline sponsoring a block party to benefit the Center. For three months the helpline members planned, worked on, and publicized the block party: Alive with Pride in '85'. This was the beginning of an annual event which has become a tradition to be proud of within our community.

In February of this year Alan Wakefield passed away from AIDS. This years Block Party '90: A Mardi Gras is being loving dedicated to Alan for the love and joy he has given to us. Please come and join us in a celebration of the spirit of life that was very much a part of both Alan and the block party he inspired.

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

In our community there are many different organizations and as a lot of us know, that donate time for these organizations, there are usually just a hand full of people who keep the organizations going.

Gayspeak is published by the Pikes Peak Gay Community Center and I would like to say thank you to a hand full of people who help me get this newsletter out every month.

Ed Sells, President of P.P.G.C.C. spends endless hours reading the national news and decides which articles we will use in the up-coming issue.

Rick Brown, doesn't carry a title in the Community Center, but I'm not sure if I could even turn on my typewriter without his help. He puts this mess of articles and advertisements together to make it look like a newsletter and usually I only give it to him an hour before it has to go to print!

Kevin Conboy, besides having to take care of me for over three years and back me up in every organization I am envolved in. He is my dictionary and he proof reads my articles in between taking care of our pets and cleaning the house. I don't think he had any idea what was in store for him when we moved in together.

After these three get finished helping put the newsletter together, they help me address, stuff, and stamp the envelopes so that I may send you this newsletter each month.

People may address mail to me as the Editor, but I would not be able to publish this newsletter with out their help.

Thank you!! David Eidson, Editor.

FROM THE VICE PRESIDENTS CORNER

The Community Center hosted a benefit show at the Hide and Seek on April 28th, the show was a lot of fun, and I would like to thank Barb Granniss for that special performance in the second show. BLOCK PARTY '90 is just around the corner. June 16th, at the Exit Lounge parking lot. This is a great time for the groups in the Center, to get out and explain what they are all about. Booth prices are $10.00 if paid before June 1st, and $15.00 after that date. Please contact me through the helpline, if your group is interested in putting a booth together. The Community Center is also participating in the Court's community float for the GAYPRIDE '90 parade in Denver on June 24. We need help putting this float together. Please contact a Board member if you can donate a few hours.

The Center is strong and alive! Become a part of it! Center meetings are on the third Tuesday of every month, Call the Helpline for location. (471-4429) Everyone is welcome.

David Eidson, Vice-President P.P.G.C.C.

SOS / COUNT ME IN / GATERING

June 3rd is the date to save for a summer gathering to be held in a local park. This will be a pot-luck picnic. Many activities are planned, as well as leisure time-in-the-sun to celebrate the 10th year of continous meetings of this local women's support group.

About 10 years ago, "Count-me-in" was started in order to have a "safe place" for people to gather and talk. The group prospered, floundered, grew and changed. As the group evolved it became a women's discussion group and thus the name was changed to S.O.S. (Sisters of Sappho) and continues to meet weekly in a local home.

This event is open to any women in the community and will be a great way to see old friends and a chance to make new friends.
For further information call the HELPLINE 471-4429.

Colorado Springs area people are especially invited to the Sunday (10am) Worship service at the hotel, and the Sunday evening Worship, (5pm) at 730 North Tejon Street. For more information, and registration forms call 634-3771.

TIPS FOR CONTACTING YOUR LEGISLATOR BY LETTER OR POSTCARD

There is a great need for individuals to stay in written contact with their elected officials. Letters are used by legislators as one way to measure public opiion in their district. Legislators count the pieces of mail FOR and AGAINST every issue.

Effective letters

*IDENTIFY YOURSELF

Make sure your legislator knows you are his/her constituent. You can identify yourself as a constituent but you can also assume the staff person recognizes most addresses in the district - which means you must include your name and address.

AVOID ANONYMOUS LETTERS.

*TOPICS

Cover one subject per letter. Different staff in the office cover different issues. Your letter may get lost or hung up with one staff person if you cover several topics in your letter.

If you have more than one issue to raise, write more than one letter.

If the issue you raised can be identified by bill number, include that bill number. If possible, mention who introduced the legislation, how many legislators have cosponsored the bill, and what it will do. This demonstrates to the legislator that you are serious about the issue and are keeping a close watch on the progress of the bill.

*SELLING YOUR POSITION

Be brief and concise. Type or write clearly so your letter is easy to read.

State your position and exactly what you want the legislator to do in your first paragraph. For example, "I urge you to support congressional efforts designed to end the irrational discharges of lesbian and gay military service personnel." Or, "I urge you to support and cosponsor HR 1048, the Hate Crime Statistics Act."

Give reasons for your position. Remember, when you write, you are essentially trying to sell your idea or position on issue to the legislator. Avoid deeply emotional appeals, demands, threats or promises. These are not effective letter writing tactics. However, if you are writing about discrimination and have been a victim of discrimination, explain that to the legislator. Legislators will want to know how a bill or proposal will affect the lives of their constituents. Your own experiences and observations will help sell your position.

*FOLLOW-UP

Request a reply. You can ask how your legislator will vote on a particular bill, you can ask about his/her position on an issue, and/or you can request his/her personal involvement in a particular issue. You are more likely to receive a reply if you ask for one.

When you receive a reply from legislator and he/she agrees with your position or has informed you of his/her intent to vote for the position you have advocated - write back and thank him/her.

If you receive a reply from the legislator that informs you of his/her intent to vote in opposition to the position you have taken - write back and explain your position again. Don't let him/her off the hook. Keep the heat on!

TEXAS CONGRSSMAN GRAIG WASHINGTON TO COSPONSOR GAY AND LESBIAN CIVIL RIGHTS BILL. HRCF HAILS 76TH COSPONSOR OF FEDERAL LEGISLATION

HOUSTON,TX. (April 12, 1990) Congressman Craig Washington (D-TX) announced that he will cosponsor the Gay and Lesbian Civil Rights Bill in the U.S. House of Representatives. Washington, who was recently elected to the House with support from Houston's gay qand lesbian community and from national organizations such a the Human Rights Campaign Fund, will become the 76th cosponsor of the bill in the U.S. House of Representatives.

"It is time to include lesbians and gay men into Civil Rights Act where they should have been included from the beginning," Washington stated in an impassioned speech before members of Houston's lesbian and gay community on April 12th.

Tim McFeeley, executive director of the Human Rights Campaign Fund, the largest national lesbian and gay political organization, praised Washington's decision to cosponsor the legislation. "Craig Washington has stood with our community in the past while serving in the Texas House and Senate. We are proud to have him as a vocal defender of the rights of lesbian and gay Americans in the U.S. Congress," McFeeley said.

"Congressman Washington has been an advocate and a leader on issues of importance to us. His strong stands on AIDS and lesbian and gay rights were the reason HRCF gave him the legal maximum, $10,000, in his campaign for the House of Representatives. We are thrilled that he is going to push for passage of the Civil Rights Bill," McFeeley stated.

Congressman Washington was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives in a Special Election to fill the unexpired term of the late Mickey Leland in Texas' 18th Congressional District. He is a member of the Education and Labor Committe and the Judiciary Committee.
(Human Rights Campaign Fund, News Release)

Dear Editor:
I have Acuired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS). In the community in which I reside we are so very fortunate to have medical workers in all fields who are loving, dedicated individuals giving numerous hours for the defeat of this disease. My doctor in particular is a highly respected care-taker and scientist; among the internationally recognized community of physicians dealing with AIDS-related diseases. She has given me so much of her time in helping me cope with the disease; one that will eventually devastate the very being of my financial, emotional, spirtual, and ultimately, physical existance in this life as I know it. To her I am indebted.

We now have enough information about this terrible epidemic that we know how one can protect themselves from infection. we know that you cannot get it through casual contact with an infected person. You cannot get it by eating food prepared by or sharing a drinking glass used by someone infected. Touching, hugging, a dry kiss, shaking hands with, coughing, or being around one infected will not infect you. In most areas of the world there are now enough support services and educational materials availible to teach the masses: the do's and don'ts, dealing with those infected, the emotional strains experienced by family and friends, and the research being done to get control of this rapidly growing and progressively debilitating epidemic. There is no longer any excuse for people to not know about the truths and myths of AIDS. But unfortunately there are many eho choose to swim in their sea of fear and ignorance. Unlike others I know who are HIV - positive or have full blown AIDS, I am one of patience and enduring understanding. I can allow for the natural fear and initial lack of knowledge that surfaces when even the word "AIDS" is brought to light. What I cannot allow for is their unwillingness to overcome ignorance. That becomes far more dangerous than my disease. I have a fighting chance of surviving a virus that is eating away at my body and mind. Those unwilling to educate themselves about AIDS have no chance at all. They must live with that and hopefully, not spread the ugliness of their misinformation to others with whom we've made progress by means of education.

Three days ago my uncle in grand Junction, Colorado died of cancer. After the long-sustaining suffering and pain he endured, a power greater than ourselves took his soul and moved him to a life hereafter; one without pain and earthly falicies. As I prepared to pull my finances and health in line to be able to attend his funeral, I could only think of the sorrow that must have envoloped my aunt with his evebtual passing. She too has suffered, as have so many families and friends faced with the inevidable death of a loved one. Tears filled my eyes as I knelt to pray for her comfort and peace that she will one day have again. I thought of her son and daughter and of the loving support that they are charged to give her, now more than ever. Of her other family members that have been there for her through these torturing months and must yet be possessed to continue. I too wanted to be a part of this family circle of unity.

Two hours before my mother, two sisters, and myself were to depart Salt Lake City for Grand Junction to attend the services for my uncle, one of my sisters called me on the telephone. I heard quivering in her voice as she said she had something important to tell me. Instantly I thought that there had been another, this time unexpected, tragedy to strike our family. With nurturing words of thought she proceeded to tell me that my relatives in Colorado did not want me there because I have AIDS. At last, their willing ignorance of my condition had over-powered the enormity of their own loss of a loved one. I WAS NOT WELCOME.

Today as I look into the eyes of my own two daughters, I pray that in the time I have left to enjoy my earthly life, I might enstill a compassion in them for propriety: Faith in place of fear, understanding in place of ignorance, and love in place of loss. As much as my heart flows with tears, there will be an empty room in the home of my aunt. I know that sense of sorrow, because through the rejection of me by my family, I too have such a room. Exect, for them, I have pity.

I am battling desparately to LIVE with AIDS as opposed to dying with it. I know now and have known in the past others with the disease that have been rejected by family and friends; thrown to the streets to scrape for whatever gratuities and quality of life is still left for them. In my wildest dreams I would have never imagined that I would be walking the same narrow path, hand in hand with my fellow peers. For us there is no shame. For we are the ones who still hold to cherish love and acceptance for our families and friends. Perhaps long after we are gone will God allow our families and friends to forgive themselves for their willing ignorance and malicious fear. I pray for them with love in my heart.

Respectfully,
Thomas J. Berry II

HUMAN RIGHTS CAMPAIGN FUND SEEKS INTERNS

The Human Rights Campaign Fund is looking for interns for its office in Washington, D.C. Interns work in all program areas including field, development, political, legislative, lesbian issues, administration and public relations.

"This is a great opportunity for someone interested in lesbian and gay issues, or just in learning how government and politics work," said Campaign Fund political director Eric Rosenthal, who coordinates the intern program. "Interns have an opportunity to make a contribution to the lesbian and gay movement as they work on issues in Congress."

Interns must work at least 20 hours per week for three months. Each is under the direction of a staff member. Interns receive a stipend from the Campaign Fund.

People who have questions or who are interested in applying for internships should contact Eric Rosenthal at (202) 628-4160 or at the Human Rights Campaign Fund, 1012 - 14th Street, N.W. 6th Floor, Washington, D.C. 20005. The application should include a letter discussing why you want to work at the Campaign Fund, a resume and a writing sample.

The Human Rights Campaign Fund is the largest political and advocacy organization representing the lesbian and gay community in Washington. It lobbies on Capitol Hill and participates in elections for House and Senate.
